RE: Docket Number 2007-421-T and 2007-445-A

Dear Sirs:

We are concerned with the first docket- 2007-421-T addressing the Max Rate Tariff. Smith Dray Line is not in support of the Max Rate Tariff. We believe that our current tariff's structure better serves the consumer. With the fixed rates, it is easier for the consumer to understand. Regulation is about consistency. Max rate (de-regulation) does away with consistency. This change in consistency could also cause a drop in the levels of service. We feel by having this structured tariff that it keeps the moving companies strong and more established. The change in the tariff would prevent our rural/small communities from being served properly. Our goal is to provide superior levels of customer service in South Carolina. We feel that we are achieving this now with our current tariff.

Smith Dray Line is in complete agreeance with Docket 2007-445-A. Safety must be first in this business, so we feel that the ORS looking at safety with the DOT is a welcomed addition. We support regulations in the transportation of PODS. We feel that the storage container businesses should follow the same guidelines as the household goods movers. These regulations provide extra protection for the consumer as well as the public on our highways. Audits are being performed on an individual basis by ORS inspectors. Refunds are issued based on these audits. This process is currently in place. We feel this process is working well for the consumer.

Please feel free to contact me if you need further information. We all need to work towards what is best for the consumer. Thank you for considering our opinions and concerns in regards to these dockets.

Sincerely,

Harry Johnson
